BLACK HILLS STATE UNIVERSITY

K-12 SPECIAL EDUCATION

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN EDUCATION (B.S.ED.)

THE BHSU EXPERIENCE

WORK WITH STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES A core philosophy of Special Education (SPED) is that all students can learn. The BHSU SPED program will prepare you through specialized training in instructional methods, behavior management, assessment, and assistive technologies for students with disabilities. Following completion of the program, you will be well- equipped to serve as an effective and dynamic SPED teacher.

BECOME PREPARED AND GET CERTIFIED The Black Hills State University K – 12 SPED program will prepare you to become a certified SPED teacher in Kindergarten through High School classrooms; therefore, the K-12 SPED degree will provide you with the option of teaching a variety of disabilities at any age level. You will gain field experience through an internship in a special education classroom, and a general education classroom as well.

LEARN FROM EXPERIENCED EDUCATORS The K – 12 Special Education teacher education program is rigorous and taught by faculty who hold doctorates in the field of Special Education, and have several years of experience as public school SPED teachers. The SPED faculty at BHSU will provide you with learning opportunities focused on real-world applications of state-of-the-art educational research.

FIND YOUR CAREER

Teach students who receive special education support at all levels of schooling in the following eligibility categories:

- Autism Spectrum Disorders
- Deaf-Blindness
- Emotional-Behavioral Disorders
- Hearing Impairment/Deafness
- Intellectual Disabilities
- Learning Disabilities
- Orthopedic Impairments
- Other Health Impairments
- Speech-Language Disorders
- Visual Impairment/Blindness

FIND OUT MORE ABOUTK-12 SPECIAL EDUCATION:

Black Hills State University | BHSU.edu/SpecialEducation | 605.642.6343 | Admissions@BHSU.edu